

'Sarah Jane Road' goes Boom!

May 9th, 2008

Tacoma, Wash – New Empire Productions' new film division 133 Films is proud to announce the trailer for their first film, Sarah Jane Road, is a finalist in the 2008 Boomtown Film and Music Festival in Beaumont, TX.

The film, due out in summer 2008, stars Ernie Joseph and Melissa Goad as a married couple that are driving home from a weekend vacation away. They are in high spirits until a violent storm threatens to make their commute home a little less pleasant. As a result, traffic stops and they decided to skip the highway in favor of some back roads near where Lindsey grew up. But all is not right. In the torrential downpour and darkness they get lost. Stuck in the middle of nowhere in the dark and rain, they are left alone with their own paranoia and fear. Two basic instincts that can impair reason and cause things to go bump in the night that may or may not be there. The film also stars Jaime Saginor.

"It's something completely different than any other film we have done," says Producer Joe Rosati. "I wanted to see if we could make a Hitchcock style suspense film in less than forty minutes," Says Writer/Director Michael Winfrey "So far it seems like we are getting great responses from the trailer," he adds which can be seen here. "It's amazing to see this level of intensity packed into a 35 minute film," Says Executive Producer Randy Sparks.

The trailer will be shown at the Arena of the Beaumont Civic Center on Saturday, May 17th with the feature film Where One Stands at 9 am. There will be an awards ceremony at 6 pm that night at the Jefferson Theatre.

The early summer months are quickly gaining speed for New Empire Productions and 133 Films in that both of their current films are being shown in Film Festivals nationally. Limbo, will be shown at the Seattle True Independent Film Festival (STIFF) June 15th in Seattle at the Central Cinema.
